Reading is Important.

are available today at the back of church at £4.25 - please take yours today.

Communion will feel slightly different (for a bit)

The archbishops of Canterbury and York together with our own diocesan bishops have recommended not sharing the wine in the chalice in the usual manner. This is due to the current health issues regarding the swine flu pandemic. So when you receive communion today you will be given the bread already dipped in the wine. Thus we will still receive communion in both kinds, although it will feel slightly different. While this may feel strange it may be a good time for you to reflect on the significance of both the bread and wine for your daily spiritual life.

Do ask me any questions raised by this change - Simon.
